A black and white cartoon illustration by Morty Mallory. The scene is set on a racetrack. In the foreground, a large, anthropomorphic character with a mustache and a top hat labeled 'NAPS' is driving a car labeled 'RED JOX'. The car is filled with people and is crashing into a large, stylized cloud. In the background, a race track is visible with a sign that says 'DETROIT' and another that says 'YANKS'. A small figure is lying on the ground in the foreground. The artist's signature 'MORTY MALLORY' is in the bottom right corner.

The pauper institutions at Long Island are again under investigation, this time by the trustees of the pauper institutions of Boston. The board has received a number of complaints from the public, and is alleging that after serving long and faithful they have been discharged for no apparent reason. The board is now investigating, and has already received a number of complaints, some of which are being investigated. The board is also investigating the food served in Ward A and B, and has already received a number of complaints. The board is also investigating the complaints that have been made to them.

$20,000 SUIT FOR TOWN BRIDGE HURTS

ORANGE, June 12.—Charles F. Porter, through his attorney, Owen A. Hoban, of Gardner, has brought suit against the town of Orange for $20,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by him while taking down a bridge at West Orange, Aug. 1, 1907.

The bridge, built by William Sibley the men were at work and Porter was seriously injured.

GRAVEYARD RACE TRACK, N. Y. June 12.—The first arrest under the new anti-gambling law was made by the police at a track in the city of New York. The track, Dick Weidon was held by the officers. A mob of bettors attacked the police as they were making their way to the track. After a lively scuffle rescued Weidon, who escaped.

There was practically no open betting. Governor Hughes's success in getting the bills through the Senate has put an absolute stop to the usual style of gambling. The betting men have stolen in the streets of ring. Nothing is going on there. Groups of men are clustered here and there, but they are not betting. The two best and quiet regions where usually all is active and noisy are now quiet.

Some of the men of means who are in the city are not betting. They are not in the city in a guarantee of good faith, are not in the city in a guarantee of good faith, are not in the city in a guarantee of good faith. The element is not patronizing the commandments to any extent.

The gamblers are willing to take chances on this kind of betting, but they are not willing to take chances on this kind of betting, but they are not willing to take chances on this kind of betting. They will make bets with those they know, but they will not make bets with those they know.

Justice Goff directed the Grand Jurors that if it had found the facts as propounded in the question which was propounded by Foreman Everett Jansen Wendell to be true it was their solemn duty to find an indictment against such officers of the Ice Trust as were responsible for the making of agreements in restraint of trade.

Justice Goff, in response to a question propounded by the Grand Jury, for the first time clearly expounded the law as to the validity of a contract in restraint of trade and left no ground upon which the grand jury could fail to find an indictment against the Ice Trust.

Following his sudden surrender to Chief Watts at police headquarters, Cardenio F. King, the financial agent who had been hunted in both Europe and America since his sensational flight on February 20, was this afternoon taken before Judge Pierce in the Superior Criminal Court for arraignment on a charge of larceny of $25,338.07.

His counsel, Herbert L. Baker, who had been seeking bonds for the men, was ready with surety to the amount of $25,000, which Judge Pierce had told him at 12:30 that he would accept. Lee M. Friedman, trustee in bankruptcy, wanted the bond made $35,000.

King looks the picture of health and not the least bit worried. He wore a brown business suit, straw hat and tan shoes. On his arrival from New York he carried a small grip and puffed at a cigar.

TO MAKE FIGHT OF HIS LIFE.

He says that he has come back to make the fight of his life.

He says that if he had not gone away, his father would have sent him to a mission school, and that he would have been a Christian.

He states that he is full of hope. He believes he can rehabilitate himself, although his office was looted and his business destroyed during his absence.

Since he left Boston February 20 he has been traveling through Europe, Asia and Africa.

King arrived at the South Station at 11:15 o'clock. He took a cab and ordered the driver to take him at once to Pemberton Square. He alighted, however, at Bedford Square, and walked unaccompanied by the crowd up the hill to Headquarters.

After entering the building, he took the noted private elevator to Inspector Metcalf's office for use for the Grand Jury, where he was placed him under formal arrest. He

"GLAD TO SEE YOU AGAIN."

The chief and King had been friends for years, and both expressed gratification at meeting each other again, shaking hands with a firm clasp. "I am glad to see you again, chief," said King, and the police chief reciprocated the greeting.

"Well, Mr. King," said King, "I have an important letter against me," quickly continued the financier, "I have come from New York to New Orleans. I got into New Orleans less than five minutes ago. I have been waiting at the River boat from New York and took the train to the South station from New Orleans. I have been waiting for you. I have been waiting down and told the driver to take me rapidly to Pemberton square. I was waiting for you. I have been waiting for you up the street to headquarters."

"Well, Mr. King," said Chief Warrington, "I have a letter against me. I have a letter to ask you. Have you been in Paris?"

"Yes," was his answer.

"When did you get back to this country?"

"On the last French line to arrive in New York, about three days ago."

ROSE STOKES TO AD NURSE WHO SLEW DOCTOR

Settlement Worker Says Sarah Kolen's Plight Due to Society Conditions.

GIRL STILL IN THE TOMBS

NEW YORK, June 12.—Mrs. Rose Foster Stokes, wife of the former millionaire stockbroker, now come to the aid of Sarah Kolen and will see her through her trouble.

Mrs. Stokes had a long interview with the young nurse who averaged her hour by shooting down and killing Dr. Augustus her employer, and all his connection she said.

"I will pay all the expenses of Miss Kolen's defense and to whom she is acquainted with take her away to my home at Paradise Island, near Stamford, and will let her remain there as long as she sees fit."

Mrs. Stokes attributed the young woman's plight to the conditions of law and society.

"So long as you are alive in society," she told the woman, "you are a social asset and you have the right to be as honorable place in the world. You must meet your own part in good society, and when you leave prison I will see that you realize your life and become a nurse."

The girl spent a much more comfortable night in the Tombs, but her mental condition is such that Dr. Augustus, the Young physician, is still alarmed.

PRISONER HEARD OF DEATH OF BROTHER

MEN CHEER AND WOMEN FAINT AS JUDGE ALLOWS APPEAL TO U. S. COURT.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Herman Billick was suddenly startled from the gallows at noon today when Federal Judge Landis suddenly ordered that the execution be not carried out until the highest tribunal had passed on the matter.

At the same time the court granted an appeal to the United States Supreme Court asked for yesterday by Billick's lawyers, and ordered that the execution be not carried out until the highest tribunal had passed on the matter.

The reprieve came literally at the last moment. Yesterday Judge Landis granted a reprieve from the State's attorney that the man would not be executed before 11 o'clock today. At that hour on word from the Federal Court and Judge Landis came from the Federal Court and Judge Landis came from the Federal Court and Judge Landis came from the Federal Court.

Death March Interrupted.

Instead of reading the death warrant, the judge turned to the death march and told the prisoner the news. Billick, who had been in the Tombs for several days, was told the news of the death of his brother, who had been in the Tombs for several days.

GOLE STABBED FACES JUDGE; HELD $500

JENNIE RAMIREZ, WHO ATTACKED MAN FOR CHILDHOOD WRONG, ARRAIGNED.

Jennie Ramirez, the eighteen-year-old girl, who last night stabbed Judge J. P. Fallon in the South Boston Court on a charge of assault, was today arraigned before Judge Fallon in the South Boston Court on a charge of assault.

The court continued her case until next Tuesday and held in bonds of $500.

After Clerk Smith had read the complaint Miss Ramirez conversed with some Italian friends in court, who in turn spoke to Judge Fallon, who then announced the adjournment.

Jennie, who is forty-five years old and the mother of several children, is in a sorry state of mind, and is being cared for by several Italian friends in the city, which severely shocked the nation.

Passes Night of Weeping.

The girl passed a night of weeping in her cell.

Behind the standing is a story of a child's life and a life of a period of persecution for four years on the part of the man, who is now in the city of the man.

Not content with the harm he had done, he is taking it upon himself to make the woman's life a misery.

Scarcely a day has passed since the girl was arrested, and she is now in the city of the man.

EVERYMAN VISITS HARRY AT COURTHOUSE

His Boston American friend Mrs. William Thaw, who is a close friend of Harry K. Thaw, drew in a cab to the courthouse here shortly before noon today.

She can be seen in the building and went upstairs to Harry's apartment on the top floor. The visit was unpublicized.

She gave her name to the janitor and was taken to Harry's apartment on the top floor.

Thaw was waiting to receive her. He was at the door of his room when she was admitted. The meeting between the two was not observed by any witnesses.

Under Sheriff Townsend's supervision, Thaw was taken to the courtroom by his husband and guest of the day with him. This is Harry Thaw's first visit to the courthouse since the two were taken there on the night of the murder of Dr. George A. Brown.

Whether Thaw will have to return to New York or will be sent to some other institution, State or private, for the care of the insane, will be decided today by Judge Charles E. Hughes.

Thaw's case will be heard in the court of the city of New York, which will sit in the room of the Bar Association at No. 42 West Forty-fourth street, New York, to hear arguments of Thaw's counsel.

It is expected that Colonel Franklin will be present and that Thaw's attorney, Mr. Thaw, will be present.

The argument will be made at 10 o'clock and Thaw's attorney will be present.

Thaw's case will be heard in the court of the city of New York, which will sit in the room of the Bar Association at No. 42 West Forty-fourth street, New York, to hear arguments of Thaw's counsel.

NEW RECORD BY LUSITANIA IN FAST TRIP

NEW YORK, June 12.—The Cunard liner Lusitania has again wrecked the record of "Queen of the Seas" from her sister ship, the Mauretania. Not only did she make the fastest time on the record for the fastest trip, but she also set the record for the fastest trip.

The Lusitania's record for the fastest trip was set on the 11th of the Lusitania's career, when she made the fastest trip from New York to Liverpool, England, in 11 days, 15 hours, 58 minutes, and 23 seconds.

"NO DEMOCRATIC PARTY NOW," SAYS DAVID B. HILL

Former Senator Laments Loss of Opportunity as He Sails for Europe.

NEW YORK, June 12.—"There is no Democratic party now,"

This was the last announcement of David Bennett Hill, for many years the bete noir of the Democratic machine in New York State and a powerful factor in the Democratic councils of the United States, who Governor of New York and United States Senator, before sailing on his last trip to Europe. He said yesterday on the White Star liner, that the Democratic party is "disorganized" and characterized as "a party of the past." Then, as the engine sound, ordering anchor all who did not doubt to sail, he added, with a tinge of sadness, "The Democrats had a great chance, but it has been overthrown. It is too late now."

While Mr. Hill did not say so directly, he indicated that he was taking his last trip abroad at this particular time to avoid the necessity of going to the National Democratic Convention in Denver, and that he believed that the result of the reorganization would be failure.

Warned Bryan of Party Ruin.

When I met the late Governor Algeo at a party in a little Chicago hotel before a back stage in a little Chicago hotel, he said to me, "I told Bryan that the party has been overthrown and that the Democratic party is ruined. He said to me, 'You are wrong. The party is not ruined. It is only a little disorganized. It will be reorganized and it will be stronger than ever.'"

There is all the difference in the world between a party that is disorganized and a party that is reorganized. The party is not ruined. It is only a little disorganized. It will be reorganized and it will be stronger than ever.

Must Appeal to the Masses.

"Now both sides will have to go to the masses in the upcoming campaign for their votes. They must draw their support from the masses and that better than could stand as a representative of the masses. He said to me, 'The party is not ruined. It is only a little disorganized. It will be reorganized and it will be stronger than ever.'"

"Every time Bryan says 'I have kept the faith' indeed, he has kept it."

Chief Nathaniel W. Bunker of the Cam bridge fire department today left his headquarters at the Portland street ladder house before he left his office he announced that he was going to enjoy a wedding trip. He further announced his new wife, who he had been married to for four years. He said to me, 'The party is not ruined. It is only a little disorganized. It will be reorganized and it will be stronger than ever.'"

Chief Bunker, who is sixty-four years of age, is a native of New York City. He has been in the fire department for over thirty years. He said to me, 'The party is not ruined. It is only a little disorganized. It will be reorganized and it will be stronger than ever.'"

Democracy Never Wanted Bryan

There is no Democratic party now.

The Republican party is disorganized, completely so. There was a splendid chance, the key of the situation was Taft, the candidate of political patronage, but this has all been overlooked.

WONDERLAND IS HOME OF FUN AND PLEASURE

The attendance at Wonderland Park is far beyond the mark of previous years.

Manager George of the Park Hill has said this morning that the daily receipts were considerably ahead of the Park show last season. Amusements in dining and swimming before packed buses every evening, and the attendance during the afternoon is phenomenal. The Electric Railway has scarcely a dull minute day or evening.

Parade, the Show Boat, acrobats, the SUNSHINE AMERICAN Free Show (this Monday and Tuesday this week, at the same time took in more money than during any corresponding two days this season).

The tag races and little rides, promotions, exhibits, performances and spectacles are being patronized to a surprising degree. The free sets issued by the park management of 1908 are a step forward to any previous season.

WONDERLAND REPLETE WITH LIVELY AND NOVEL ATTRACTIONS OF ALL KINDS

Here's the Place where your troubles may be forgotten. It's a continual scream. Go down and hear "Scrappy" Callahan.

Among all the builders of this Nation none deserve more lasting gratitude than this stout old Quaker Champion.

Irish and English prisons could not conquer his spirit, and from a cell in the tower of London he conceived the idea of founding beyond the seas a state wherein brotherly love—Peace on Earth and Personal Liberty might become living facts. Thus Pennsylvania was founded.

When colonial governor he introduced vine-growing and brewing, and at Pennbury Manor he had a brew house.

Above middle height—well built and agile—William Penn in his early days was an expert swordsman, a courageous soldier, and a splendid athlete.

He died at 74, and the results of his life's doings bear eloquent witness that the moderate use of a good malt beer helps to create the noblest qualities of mind and soul.

His statue stands in Philadelphia, 547 feet high—for all the world to see.

At a meeting of the ordinance committee of the Board of Aldermen today, Mayor Hibbard's recommendation that the number of bath department trustees be reduced from seven to three, was considered. It was finally decided to appoint a sub-committee, consisting of Chairman Elbert H. KING OF THE ROYALTY HOW HE WAS RUINED

FINANCIAL THUGGERY ACCOMPLISHED HIS DOWNFALL HE DECLARES.

Here is the story of Cardozo P. King's financial collapse told in his own words.

It is a statement of the man who declares that he is a financial thugger, and that he has accomplished his downfall. He is a man who has been in the business of real estate for many years, and who has been successful in his career.

I was completely broken down, and I was left with nothing but a few dollars in my pocket. I was a man who had been successful in his career, and who had been able to make a good living for himself and his family.

I was a man who had been successful in his career, and who had been able to make a good living for himself and his family. I was a man who had been successful in his career, and who had been able to make a good living for himself and his family.

A Small Piece of Black Ribbon or the Leg of an Old Stocking May Mean
Better Health, Longer Life
Copyright, 1908, by American Journal Examiner

It guides us in our creeping around the earth. It is essential to the growth of plants, of animals and of ourselves. It is a beneficent light and warmth giving bombardment of the earth by the great mother sun, millions of miles away.

It isn't enough, however, to know that the sun and its light do us good. We must also understand that IN EXCESS AND UNDER WRONG CONDITIONS THE SUN'S LIGHT CAN DO A GREAT DEAL OF HARM.

You know that various "rays"—the X-ray, the Roentgen ray, Becquerel's rays and others are a sort of microscopic artillery, shooting out tiny particles of matter at a terrific, immeasurable rate of speed.

That force of radiation is known to a majority of us through the wide discussion of radium. A piece of radium smaller than the head of a pin, worn in your vest pocket, would soon wear a hole in your body near the vest pocket.

After carrying it around for a while you would find a painful sore, then a hole in your body, made by those invisible particles shooting off from the radium, going through your shirt and undershirt and skin.

What all of those various kinds of rays are, each in its particular way, the light of the sun appears to be ON A GREAT MILD SCALE. The bombardment of our earth, the shooting at us of tiny particles by the sun's light, is not understood. It is very diffuse. Under nearly all circumstances it is extremely beneficial. We cannot live without sunlight, BUT REMEMBER THAT WE SUFFER VERY GREATLY IF EXPOSED TO TOO MUCH OF THE SUN'S LIGHT.

A very interesting book has been written on this subject by a doctor, an officer in the army. Perhaps we shall review that book thoroughly some day. To-day we are content to point out one or two things that everybody, especially every mother, should know.

Certain elements in the sun's light, known as the "actinic rays," are very powerful. You know that the light of the sun contains all of the colors that we know, and others beyond the reach of our sense. The spectrum divides these colors as you see them in the rainbow. These various colors represent different forces, different powers in the sun's light. The actinic rays are the blue, the violet and the so-called "ultra-violet" rays. These actinic rays of the sun, reaching our body in every single ray of sunlight, are very powerful in their chemical effect. They are essential to our salvation, FOR THEY DESTROY DISEASE GERMS OF THE MOST VIOLENT KIND IN A FEW HOURS, AND THEY KEEP DOWN MINUTE INSECT LIFE SO THAT IT DOES NOT OVERWHELM US.

But these same actinic rays, necessary in moderation, are extremely dangerous in excess. Where the sun's light is very brilliant, as on the equator, you find the native protected from the actinic ray by a black skin. The black skin, or a black cloth that imitates it, CHECKS THE VIOLENCE OF THESE ACTINIC RAYS. In our country, in hot weather, people wear white. But white simply keeps off the heat. It is no protection against the actinic rays. In the tropics the necessary costume is white on the outside and black within. The safest tropical hat is a white helmet lined with black. The happiest creature in the world is a negro with a white dress on in the hot sun.

Don't expose your children to the sun's rays EXCESSIVELY. Don't imagine that they can stand an indefinite amount of sunlight. You can wither a child, destroy its vitality, by too much sunlight, just as you can destroy it by depriving it of sunlight entirely. You know that young plants must be shaded when they are set out. You know how instinctively the animals keep their very young children in shady nests away from the bright rays.

GIVE YOUR BABIES, YOUR YOUNG CHILDREN, A REASONABLE AMOUNT OF SUNLIGHT, BUT PROTECT THEM FROM EXCESSIVE SUNLIGHT. Let them do a lot of their playing in the shade. The brilliant rays of the sun exhaust their vitality in the end, just as a cold wind would exhaust their vitality.

NEVER expose your children to brilliant light while asleep. We do not mean simply that you mustn't allow a sleeping baby to have the sun on its face. That is a stupid crime. If a nurse or a mother is seen pushing along a sleeping child with the sunlight beating down on its eyes, that foolish person should be arrested by the first policeman.

To expose a sleeping child to the direct action of the sun is idiotic beyond measure.

It is almost as foolish to allow children to sleep in a bright light. It isn't enough that the sun doesn't reach them. The eyes themselves should be shaded in sleep. Very young babies' eyes should be shaded practically all of the time. On a baby carriage in hot summer a white hood lined with black or very dark green to protect the child is essential.

It is important for all human beings, grown men, women and children alike, to PROTECT THE EYES FROM BRIGHT LIGHT WHILE SLEEPING. When a baby or young child is asleep in the light which disturbs the optic nerves and the brain, take a piece of black ribbon, or the leg of an old stocking with the foot cut off, and put that gently across the eyes.

If you yourself wake up in the morning as soon as the sun rises, and find it difficult to go to sleep on account of the light, take a piece of black ribbon, or the venerable black stocking leg, and put it across your eyes, and you will go to sleep again and get the rest you need.

You wouldn't dream of trying to sleep yourself if you were having a constant succession of blows upon the back, and you wouldn't think of trying to make your child sleep under such conditions. Remember that bright light, the ordinary light in a bedroom after the sun rises, is constantly striking the optic nerve. Millions of blows strike against that sensitive nerve, and the brain is disturbed, and sleep is less beneficial, even though it may not be absolutely broken.

Try the experiment to-morrow morning. If you put your baby to sleep in the baby carriage on the veranda or anywhere else where the light can get at it, put something black and soft across its eyes. See how much longer and more peacefully it will sleep.

NEEDLESS TO SAY, YOU MUST BE CAREFUL NOT TO LET YOUR STOCKING LEG OR RIBBON SLIP DOWN AND COVER UP YOUR NOSE AND INTERFERE WITH YOUR BREATHING.

How much do you know about light, its power and effect? There is a great deal to know, a great deal that NOBODY knows as yet. We are little blinking animals fastened to a ball of earth ninety-two millions of miles away from a great, brilliant light. This light comes to us through vast space, changed perhaps after striking our atmosphere. And in that light of the sun we live.

MONEY MANIA

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

Copyright, 1908, by American Journal Examiner

If you, madam, know that your husband or son was suffering from a fever how anxiously you would look after his bodily welfare, and how unremitting would be your efforts to bring him back to good health. Why, then, are you not equally solicitous when he is suffering from the money fever, which is driving so many of our men to-day into early graves or asylums for the insane? What are you doing to control this fever?

Are you wishing for a larger house, more jewels, vehicles and journeys? Are you wondering why other men have more success than those of your household, and do the men of your household hear your admiring comments upon others who have the means of greater display?

Were you to place before a fever patient the food he would like to eat, just as criminal in the conversation, or demand, which drives a business man into speculation and mad schemes for acquiring money.

The attention of the whole world was focused upon America today because of the money mania which has seized upon our men. Many forego their wife and children to go to the quiet ways, and lay the blame of this condition upon our women.

Before they reach the accusation it might be well for each one to ask herself just how children she may be. Only the most selfish and unworthy woman would say to her husband or her father: "You must make money for me and my children, and I will risk my life, I must have it."

But thousands of women, by thought less words and actions, suggest the necessity for such a course to the men who support them.

Thousands of others fail to give the word of admonition, so to make the small and large sacrifices which would arrest a man in his insane race after millions. Silence may make a more insistent demand than speech.

The woman who must take her trip abroad each year, and chooses the most expensive resorts for her health, or her pleasure; the woman who must lead the fashion, and who must have an array of attendants to look after her comfort; the woman who has no word of disapproval for the successful speculator, and only smiling admiration for the schemer who escapes prison to lead society, it must needs be guilty of feeding the money fever.

There are men who love the strife and excitement of the business world for itself, love the fray of the street and hunt no man of old level the battlefield, aside from any principle for which they fought.

I believe it is for the gratification of the love of power that most men have, and money, money today, but even when the ambitious woman has been no part of the money mania, she has been the loving woman's part to help lead man away from these false ideas of happiness and to teach him that actual happiness lies not in money, but in the quiet ways. The only method by which she can lead him is to indicate her own preference for these quiet ways.

The influence of women in America is almost limitless. Let her use it for man's good, and she can lead him to a better place for man's good. Let her use it for man's bad, and she can lead him to a worse place. Let her use it for man's good, and she can lead him to a better place. Let her use it for man's bad, and she can lead him to a worse place.

ANSWERED!

BY ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Copyright, 1908, by American Journal Examiner

OOD-BY—yes, I am going. Sudden? Well, you are right. But a startling truth came home to me with sudden force last night. What is it? Shall I tell you—Nay, that is why I go. I am running away from the battlefield, turning my back on the foe. Riddler? You think me cruel? Have you not been wont kind? Why, when you question me like that, What answer can I find?

You fear you failed to amuse me. Your husband's friends and guests, whom he bade you entertain and please—Well, you have done your best. Then, why am I going? A friend of mine abroad, whose theories I have been acting upon, Has proven himself a fraud.

You have heard me quote from Plato thousands times, no doubt. Well, I have discovered he did not know what he was talking about. You think I am speaking strangely? You cannot understand him. Well, let me look down into your eyes. And let me take your hand.

I am running away from danger—I am flying before I fall; I am going because with heart and soul I love you—that is all. There, now, you are white with anger; I knew it would be so. You should not question a man too close, When he tells you he must go.

Little Editorials from the People

EDITOR BOSTON AMERICAN:

I wish to remark upon your editorial and the beautiful literary simile of "The man who has been made him in the mountains of the Great West." Several friends and myself were forced to remark the conviction is carried, and I take it upon myself to write you and the BOSTON AMERICAN our thanks for bringing the miniature of "The man who has been made him in the mountains of the Great West." It is a great thing for you to do, and it is really gratifying to see how you have done it. It is the memory of L. H. Grant, and how tall and stout he was, and how he was doing his duty, an absolutely honest man, and a brave and noble soul.
